Authoritative Content and Intuitive Search
By offering authoritative, evidence-based databases, STAT!Ref ensures that a wealth of critical, reputable information is available. STAT!Ref offers titles from a wide variety of respected publishers and societies. Many of these resources available through STAT!Ref are included on Doody’s Core Titles (DCT) List.

STAT!Ref offers a powerful search engine that is user-friendly and provides relevant information fast. All resources in a subscription can be searched via a simple text query. STAT!Ref then presents the results in relevance-ranked order, and offers alternative search suggestions. Resources are also searchable through the table of contents by expanding text.

STAT!Ref fully integrates search results with all titles, journals, and dictionaries to ensure that users have multiple search options and relevant results.
